READING, PA., July 28.—(Special.)—The locals played a double-header with Richmond this afternoon, and defeated the leaders in both with ease. The Bluebirds, who have been playing championship ball, only made one run in each contest, and came near being shut out in the second without a hit.

The fielding of Richmond was good, and at times brilliant, but the Virginians were unable to do anything with the stick. On the other hand, Reading batted both Chesbro and Sparks freely.

In the first game Weeks, a new twirler, was given a trial, and proved very effective, although wild at times. Chesbro was hit hard when runs were needed. The contest was so one-sided that the score will give all that interests the public. It follows:

PRINCE BISMARCK'S CONDITION.
No Ground for Anxiety--The Prince Indulges in Pleasant.
HAMBURG, July 28.—The Hamburger Nachrichten says:
"Prince Bismarck's condition still gives employment to his physicians, but there is no ground for anxiety. The pain from which he has been suffering continues bad, but the last two nights have been comparatively good. His appetite begins to increase, and his spirits are good. When told yesterday that foreign athletes who had taken part in the Turnfest had called at the castle to pay their respects, he said: 'Tell them I myself have been standing on my head for a week.'"

BISMARCK'S CONDITION CRITICAL.
LONDON, July 28.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "In spite of the optimistic reports, it seems certain that Prince Bismarck's condition is critical. Baron von Cralshheim, the Bavarian Minister, arrived to-day (Thursday) at Friedrichsruhe, but was not permitted to see the Prince."

'La Correspondencia de Espana' announces that in view of the probable capitulation of Manila, the Captain-General of the Vizcaya Islands has been ordered to assume charge of all the territory formerly administered by Captain-General Augusti. Thus, General Augusti will be able to sign only the capitulation of the city of Manila and its environs."

Gang of Outlaws Found to Have Been Operating for Some Time.
ATLANTA, GA., July 28.—The arrest of five negroes near Marietta to-day, for robbing a freight train on the Western and Atlantic railroad, has revealed the existence of a gang of outlaws which has been operating in the Kennesaw mountain country for some time. Jeff Moreland, the leader of the gang, admits the last robbery, but the detectives are confident that the other depredations can be fastened upon his crowd. FOUR FROM RICHMOND WANT TO ENTER RICHMOND COLLEGE.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE CAMPUS.

New Floors in the Main Building.
Granolithic Walk-Works of Art
for Thomas Art Hall--College Graduates in Demand as Teachers.

President Boatwright, of Richmond College, returned to the city Wednesday night from attending the James-River Baptist Association, at Cartersville. He was seen at his office, at the college, yesterday by a representative of the Dispatch, and talked very interestingly of college matters and college boys, and especially of the prospects of his own institution for the next year.

Speaking of the latter subject, President Boatwright said he was greatly encouraged. "It seems evident," he continued, "that we shall have all the out-of-town students we can care for. I believe there will also be an increase in our city patronage. Several young ladies have signified their intention of standing the severe examinations required of female students, and will enter for academic degrees. Four of these young ladies are from Richmond. I suppose we shall have in all six or eight female students next session. We are careful to state at every opportunity that we do not desire to compete for the patronage of schools for women, and desire only those who have graduated from such schools or have completed an equivalent amount of scholastic work."

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.
In addition to the erection of a science hall this summer and autumn, extensive improvements to present buildings will be undertaken. The tramp of many feet has badly worn the lower floors of the main dormitory, so new floors will be laid on the first and second stories. Granolithic approaches to the main building will replace the brick walks now in use. Several of the buildings will be repainted, and everything on the campus will be made fresh and new for the reception of the students in September.

The Library Committee has authorized the president the secretary to make extensive purchases of life-size plaster casts for the Thomas Art Hall. When this hall is thrown open, in September, visitors will gaze upon superb reproductions of the Venus de Milo, Apollo Belvedere, Laocoon, and other celebrated works of art. The handsome museum of the college will also be arranged in handsome cases in this hall. These improvements have been made possible by a gift from the late Mrs. James Thomas, Jr.

HER SONS IN DEMAND.
The graduates of Richmond College are in demand as teachers. Mr. E. E. Reid, a Master of Arts of Richmond College, and a Ph. D. of Johns Hopkins University, has been elected over numerous applicants to the professorship of Chemistry in the Agricultural College of Louisiana. Dr. Reid is a fellow of Johns Hopkins, and has already done much original work in his chemical field.

Mr. John B. Lake, of Loudoun county, another Master of Arts of Richmond College, who has recently been pursuing post-graduate studies in the University of Chicago, has accepted the professorship of Physics in Ursinus College, Pennsylvania.

Mr. J. E. Johnson, president of the class of 1898, has been elected principal of the Ridge Spring Academy, a strong institution, in South Carolina. Not a single graduate has to advertise for a position. The demand for teachers in colleges, academies, and public high schools has been greater than the supply.

Miss Schley Departs from Madrid to Paris.

Typoid-Fever in the Camps.

(Florida Times-Union.)
The camps for the mobilization and training of our citizen soldiers were specially selected for healthfulness, and the sanitation has been most carefully looked after; yet, without exception, these camps have been attacked by typhoid fever, and it is still more or less prevalent in every one of them. In every case investigation has proved that the trouble was not with the water; the food was only that furnished by the government, and the military cooking and science began to despair. There must be some general cause to account for such universal results; it must be potent; it must operate without regard to climate, but still it could not be found.

Now, in each camp were canteens, and in all these the soldier drank milk and its concoctions as a welcome relief to the monotony of meat and hard-tack. This came to the soldier without inspection, and it must be cheap if big profits were to be realized. But these facts were overlooked by the science which weighs the stars and sounds the depths, for it was originating came up, and the god of chance chose Camp Alger for the scene of his fresh triumph over reason. The rest of the tale is soon told, but to the moral we respectfully call the attention of the scientists at the Public Ledger, of Philadelphia.

"Lieutenant Montelius, one of the surgeons attached to the Eighth Pennsylvania Regiment, was visiting Major Hines, a retired army officer, who lives in the neighborhood, and the question of where all the typhoid was originating came up. After saying that for thirty-three years there had been but one case of typhoid fever in this locality before the soldiers came, Major Hines remarked that he thought the milk supplied the men in camp was responsible for a great deal of the trouble. 'Why do you believe that?' asked Dr. Montelius.

"Well, simply because I saw a milk-dealer whom I know stop at a stream the other morning, and a particularly dirty stream at that, and dilute the milk in several cans in his wagon with the water. Not only this, but so that the minnows which he scraped up out of the brook might not get into the milk, he strained the water through an old horse blanket. Now, this is an absolute fact. I'm not a milk-dealer myself, so I have no interest in the matter save the apprehension that this may be the source of much of the typhoid, because the stream drains a region with some typhoid cases in it."

The Southern Battle Abbey goes to Richmond as naturally as its prototype went to Hastings, and its altar was placed on the spot where Harold's standard was planted. Richmond was the heart of the Confederacy, and it is fitting that the memorial to our dead be placed therein.
